

CHEF'S PASSION

great grater

Chef Paul Jarett of The Oceanaire on the kitchen gadget he can't live without.

"I love my Microplane grater. It's like a cheese grater, with tiny, tiny holes, but it creates extremely fine strands. Food almost comes out like hairs. I use it for citrus zest and finely grating cheeses. Originally, it was actually made for woodworking, but has become really popular in culinary circles. I use mine all the time."

www.microplane.com —Joe Sugarman

38 • NOVEMBER 2006 • STYLE

